Cattle Plague Situation.

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Cleveland, Nov. 30.—Two cars of livestock, one of cattle and the other containing sheep and hogs and consigned to a local packing firm, were under suspicion of being infected with the foot and mouth disease at noon today. Government and state inspectors ordered the cars isolated and a close inspection will be made.

Discovery of these suspicious cases, in addition to the cases that came to light yesterday when infection was found in a herd of 27 cattle caused stockmen to fear that the quarantine but recently lifted might be established. The stock now under suspicion arrived from Ostrander, Delaware county. The shipment in which the infected cattle were found yesterday came from Holmes county.

Engineers On 98 Roads Want Higher Wages

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Chicago, Nov. 30.—Arbitration of the differences over wages and hours of employment of ninety-eight western railroads, and their 55,000 engineers began here today before a board of arbitrators appointed under the provisions of the Newlands act. It is regarded as the most important case thus far to come under the law.

In a general way it is stated that the wage increases sought by the men is about 10 per cent. They were represented in court by Warren S. Stone, grand chief engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and William S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

The railroads were represented by 12 committees of the managers association, assisted by legal counsel.
Ninety days are allowed to present evidence, and an award is expected ten days later. The arbitrators are W. L. Park and H. E. Byram, representing the railroads; F. A. Burgess and Timothy Shea, for the employees and Judge Peter C. Pritchard and Charles Nagel, appointed by the government.

ELEVEN DEATHS FROM HUNTING IN MINNESOTA

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 30.—Eleven hunters dead and twelve wounded is the toll of this year's hunting season in Minnesota. The period is twenty days and this is the last day. The number of deer and moose killed is the largest in the records of the game wardens department.
Game has been abundant in far-away localities but scarce where it abounded in former years. Members of the Northwestern Gun Club are considering a number of recommendations for shortening the season on game to ten days.

OHIO WOOLERS QUIT.

Blair Company Needs Money To Finance Its Business and Looks to People of Newark

Newark people are talking about the future of the automobile truck industry, having been brought face to face with the possibility of losing the Blair factory. This local institution has a large volume of business on hand and if the company is properly financed will no doubt prove to be one of the big industries of Newark. The European war has created a tremendous demand for trucks and this demand will be further increased by the exportation of thousands upon thousands of horses from this country.

The order of 120 Blair auto passenger buses from Philadelphia makes the following facts of local interest:

In the annual report of a motor-bus company now operating on Fifth and other avenues in New York City it appears that heavy increase in earnings occurred last year over the previous year. During the year, the number of passengers carried was 11,276,430, the fare being ten cents and the company operating 125 buses. The increase in passengers over the previous year was 2,591, 868. The total revenue of the company from all sources, fares, advertising, and livery service for the year was $1,176,630, an increase of $240,982 over the previous year.

With operating expenses and taxes deducted, the net from operation and leased property was $231,145. Out of this were deducted charges for rent, interest on mortgage, and advances amounting to $10,767, leaving a net income for the year of $190,377. From this sum was deducted $10,177 for profit and loss of adjustment, which gave a surplus of $180,200, an increase over last year of $49,341. Other items in the annual report are summarized as follows:

Having cut down its fare cost to 17 cents per mile, and its net operating expenses to 31.6 cents per mile, while its income in fares alone reached 85.5 cents per bus-mile, the company can look back on its latest fiscal year with more than a smile.
Its stockholders and directors will be well pleased for the year's success. Financial reports of the kind submitted by the company are not common, but they tell particularly valuable stories to the transportation men of the city, and the fact that the Blair company has been able to report to have been badly taken in in its reading of the 1913 report

Octagon House, Where Treaty of Ghent Was Signed.

This is the Octagon House, Washington, occupied by President Madison 100 years ago when he signed the Treaty of Ghent which was followed by 100 years of peace between the United States and Great Britain. In the last war with Great Britain the White House was burned, and the President had to seek other quarters.
In the presence of delegates to the national convention of the American Federation of Architects President Wilson will on December 2, the one hundredth anniversary of the signing of the treaty, unveil a tablet commemorating the event. The old house was built in 1800, and was at the time President Madison occupied it, one of the great mansions of the capital.

$8,000 Fire Loss at Plant of Newark Artificial Stone & Plaster Company; Early Morning Blaze at Central School

Fire of unknown origin in the main building of the Newark Artificial Stone & Plaster Company's plant along the B. & O. and Pennsylania tracks, caused a loss estimated at $8,000 Saturday night about 10 o'clock. Much material, finished product and some machinery was badly damaged, there being little salvage in the merchandise stored in the building.

Aside from the actual loss caused by the fire, the plant will be out of commission for 30 to 60 days while repairs are being made and the firm will lose heavily in being unable to fill orders from its own plant.
It was about 9:30 o'clock when clerk employed in the Johnson grocery in South Williams street, first noticed the blaze. At that time the flames were leaping from the windows.

A call was quickly sent to the fire department and the West Newark company and the truck from Central responded. Seeing that the plant was threatened with destruction, Fire Chief Bausch called for more help and the hose company from Central responded. The North Fourth street company occupied the headquarters station as a protection to the downtown district and the absence of the regular engine.

Although the fire was in the main building, it had several lines of hose to the rear and heavy streams of water were directed at it. It was difficult to control it, but it was finally brought under control by the use of a high-pressure water gun.

After more than an hour's battle the blaze was under control and the firemen were inspecting the damage.
The loss was estimated at $8,000.
The company is now working on the repairs and expects to be back in operation in about a week. The fire was caused by a defective gas valve in the boiler room. The boiler was overheated and the gas valve failed to close properly, causing a leak of gas which ignited. The cause of the disaster is now being investigated by the fire department.

of no reason why any one should fire the building, however.
The manager declared that the frame work of the building was about the only part of the structure which was undamaged. This is composed of heavy timbers and was not greatly damaged by the flames.
However, the flooring and siding was badly burned.

He stated that the company probably would arrange to fill orders through other dealers, pending the repair of their own plant.
This company is one of the older institutions of this character in the city. Interior and exterior plaster work consists of the bulk of the business. It also manufactures artificial stone.

About six years ago the office of the company was wrecked when several hundred tons of bricks, laid on the roof, fell into the woodwork of the office interior.

STOOD FIRE AT THE
OLD CENTRAL BUILDING
EARLY MONDAY MORNING.

The fire in the old Central school building, 11th street west of Broad, was a destructive one, starting about 10 o'clock. The blaze originated in the boiler room.

the janitor's room on the north side of the first floor of the building Mrs.
Walter Gettings, wife of the janitor, was awakened about the hour mentioned, when light from the burning building streamed into the windows of their home in the rear of the school.

She thought it was daylight and called her husband to get up. Upon being awakened, he realized that the light was from some other cause and running to the window he saw the flames pouring from the windows of the school building.

A call for the fire department caused a general alarm to be sounded and four companies responded.
Lines of hose were quickly strung across the street and within a few minutes several streams were playing on the blaze from various points of vantage.
Through the efforts of the department, the blaze was confined to the first floor, largely to the room where the fire originated.

An hour's fight was necessary before the blaze was extinguished. The first floor was well flooded and considerable damage was done on the second floor by smoke. The heat was intense in the building, paint on woodwork fifty feet from the blaze being blistered.

A large part of the damage done,
it was found, was to the school building. The loss was estimated at $8,000. The company is now working on the repairs and expects to be back in operation in about a week. The fire was caused by a defective gas valve in the boiler room. The boiler was overheated and the gas valve failed to close properly, causing a leak of gas which ignited. The cause of the disaster is now being investigated by the fire department.

This is the first time since the outbreak of the war that the commander in chief has consented to see the press. In describing the headquarters and what he saw there the Havas correspondent says:

"The office from which the general directs operations is in a public school in a small, quiet town. There is not undue stir or bustle in the little streets and a stranger would never suspect the presence in this modest place of the head of the allied armies."

"General Joffre's private office is on the first floor of the school building. The correspondents were at once shown up and as they entered the general rose from his desk and stood in the middle of the room."

"He was just as all Frenchmen picture him. His features reflect the character of the man in every line, showing a combination of energy and goodness, gentleness and firmness. # RADICAL CHANGE IN DAILY LIFE OF OSTEND SINCE GERMAN OCCUPATION.

Inhabitants May Not Leave Homes From 7 P. M. Until 7 A. M.—Market Suspended.

(Associated Press Correspondence.) Ostend, Belgium, Nov. 21.—The normal life of this usually lively city has been radically changed by the German military occupation. Inhabitants are forbidden to leave their houses between 7 in the evening and 7 in the morning, and no lights may be shown during that time. No one can leave town without passports from the German authorities.

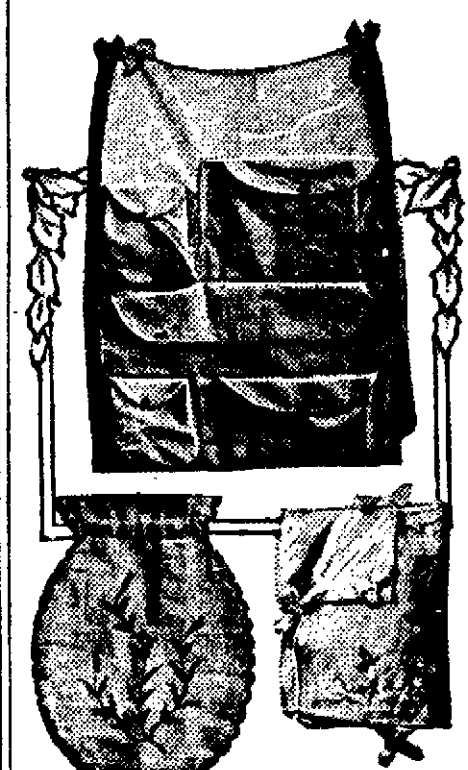

The usual market gatherings are almost suspended. Villagers from outside Ostend can come in only when attended by their burghomasters, and the market hours are limited to Monday and Thursday mornings. All horses have been taken by the military authorities so only dog carts can be used to bring food into the town. Butter, eggs, meat and vegetables are cheap, but Ostend is without fish, because all fishermen have fled to England. Fishing would be impossible because civilians are forbidden to approach the coast, and the inhabitants of houses along the seashore have been expelled.

Little is left of what formerly was Westende, Dixmude, Schoore, Ramskapelle, St. Pieters, Capelle and Nennekensvere, and over 150 farms in the neighborhood have been destroyed.

Hundreds of wounded Belgians and French are brought to Ostend, and those who can stand the journey, are sent along to Germany. A dozen or more Germans, dead from their wounds, are buried here every day. The wounded allies are well cared for by the Germans. Ostend is without newspapers, soap, oil, coffee and candles.

The hotels are occupied by German officers, who live on the best of everything. German bands play in the parks every day but have only the Germans as auditors, because the inhabitants who are left, boycott them.

Pretty Gifts Made of Brown Linen

A GIFT that will be appreciated by the man or woman who travels, is an apron of brown linen, rubberized on one side, in which to carry all necessary toilet articles. The rubberizing makes the inside of the apron and its pockets waterproof. To make it requires one piece of linen 20 inches long and 14 wide for the apron and a length 17 inches for the pockets and flaps. There are five pockets. One, 4 1/2 inches deep, extending across the apron, two four inches deep, at the bottom. At the top one of the pockets is 5 1/2 inches in depth and the other four inches. Small plaits are laid at each side of all the pockets except the long one. This long pocket is closed with a flap four inches wide while the others have flaps from one and one-half to two inches wide. The apron pockets and flaps are bound with bias tape in linen color. The flaps fasten with snap fasteners.

A pretty handkerchief case is made of a straight piece of unbleached linen 17 inches long and 10 1/2 inches wide. Across one corner a spray of flowers is embroidered in pink with green foliage. Bow knots are embroidered in blue at each side of the spray. The case is lined with thin pink satin and interlined with a sheet of cotton batting, in which sachet powder is sprinkled. The edges are finished with button-hole stitching in pink silk. The case is folded crosswise at the center and the sides and top tied together with narrow satin ribbon in simple bows. One corner is turned back and fastened with a bow. This finishes an attractive, scented receptacle, shaped like an envelope, to be placed on the dressing case.

A work bag is made of coarse brown linen cut into the shape shown in the picture. It is 14 inches long and 10 1/2 wide. Two pieces are joined at the edges which are scalloped and finished with button-hole stitching in green silk floss.

Appetite Follows Good Digestion

Nearly everyone indulges their appetite and the digestive organs are abused, resulting in a congestion of poisonous waste that clogs the bowels and causes much misery and distress.

The most effective remedy to correct this condition is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a natural, pleasant-tasting remedy, gentle yet positive in action, and quickly relieves indigestion, constipation, sick headache, belching, etc. Drug stores sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, and in thousands of homes it is the indispensable family remedy. For a free trial bottle write Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 451 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mucus, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

Strange Symphony. A certain clergyman was the guest of the Rev. Edward Everett Hale overnight. In the morning he came downstairs with a look of pleased surprise on his face.

"What a delightful custom you have here," he said, "of chiming the bells at midnight! I sat up and listened to the window listen. It was a pretty air they played, although I did not recognize it."

CRUISERS

OF GERMAN NAVY IN PACIFIC WATERS ARE NOW ALL ACCOUNTED FOR.

And Fears for the Safety of British Columbia are Alleged—Channels Mined.

(Associated Press Telegram) Seattle, Wn., Nov. 30.—With all five of the German cruisers in the Pacific accounted for in southern waters, the British Columbia cities of Victoria, Vancouver and Prince Rupert have recovered from the feeling of uneasiness which prevailed when the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau, Leipzig, Dresden and Nürnberg were reported at several places in north American waters. The Leipzig was sighted as far north as Cape Mendocino, California, August 19, and then headed for South America. This is the nearest approach of a German cruiser to British Columbia since the war began.

Reports of naval engagements in the north Pacific persist, yet are pure inventions according to British naval authorities. The allies' patrol of the coast continues, with the powerful Japanese cruiser Izumo off California, the large British cruiser Newcastle moving along the Oregon and Washington coast and the Canadian cruiser Rainbow, which is not formidable guarding British Columbia. The huge blue funnel liner Proteus, renamed the Aid and the tramp steamer Rankdale are coal carriers for these three patrol cruisers. There are coaling stations at Esquimalt and at a harbor on the west coast of Vancouver island. There are two submarines at Esquimalt.

Broughton Channel, just north of Vancouver Island has been closed and mined and is commanded by shore guns. The lights have been extinguished. The approaches to Victoria have been mined. A large camp near Victoria volunteers have been drilling for several months. The only excitement in Victoria recently was caused by a patrol in Esquimalt, firing on a rowboat containing four men. The boat was sunk and the men, who were foreigners and armed, were picked up. Newspapers were forbidden to mention the incident and one version was circulated, to the effect that the men had planned to dynamite the naval station.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

Grandma kept her locks dark, glossy and thick with a simple mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we won't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. ## Why Advertising is Read.

One of the foundation principles of successful newspaper work is that the closer anything comes home to the personal affairs of the reader, the more interest it excites. An item about the business interests of a neighbor is likely to be read with more attention than a report of some far-off disaster many miles away.

This gives one an idea why it is that advertisements are always read with such attentive interest. They relate directly to the personal affairs of the public.

People are deeply concerned nowadays about the cost of living. They lie awake nights worrying about it. The club formed to discuss the poetry of Tennyson may spend much of its time talking over the cost of beef or the wages paid servants.

So anything relating directly to living costs appeals as keenly as anything there is in the newspaper. The account of the battle over in Belgium is thrilling, but it is many miles away, and without immediate effect on the reader.

But when one learns from some wide awake merchant's advertising, that he has acquired a lot of potatoes or oranges or flour or overcoats at a special bargain, and is prepared to close them out at a low price, the thing hits us where we live.

Every one that wants to reduce his cost of living, and that includes nearly the whole community, is affected by such an advertisement. It is read more eagerly by the housewives than the news of the distant battle. The men also are interested and ask their wives why they don't go there and buy.

Advertising is often the best news in the paper. Merchants who use it may be sure that every line they say is read.

Saving Money.
Wall Street calculates that the demand for foreign exchange has been reduced by $50,000,000 within four months through the stoppage of American travel in Europe by the war. It is probably a conservative estimate.—New York World.

Subway Construction.
There are about 17,000 men engaged in construction work on the New York subway and elevated road systems—14,000 on city-owned and 3,000 on company-owned lines. Fifty-nine out of eighty-three contractors have already been let out—standing contracts by the city amounting to $140,516,385. Altogether eighty miles of new city owned railroads with about 260 miles of single track are being built.—New York Independent.

Howl and Hint.
The manner in which those gentle gunmen who deal in printers' supplies have whooped up the prices on everything used around a newspaper office is simply kismet. The ink factories have shot the price of news ink up to a point that makes Gilderoy's justly famous kite look like a sunken submarine. The paper barons act as if they thought their wood pulp product ought to bring as much as Indian bible stock. And type! Why, you'd think type metal was composed of two parts radium and one part ayora borealis. Even Aunt Mandy Jackson, in her sealed bid for washing our towel, quotes a figure 50 per cent higher than that quoted when we were thinking of having it washed last year. At that, we could manage to ease through this month if some of our valued subscribers would kick in with a little emergency currency. Even a few old fashioned dollar bills would do.—Frankfort, Ohio, Sun.

Pointed Observations

Yesterday the turkey was our best friend, but today, somehow, it seems cold.—Pittsburg Gazette Times.

Aboriginal society note: A Tammany Sachem has married a Cherokee squaw.—Philadelphia Record.

The Mexicans, according to John Lind, would appreciate a more kindly attitude on the part of Americans. Probably because kindness is so infrequently met with at home.—New York Evening Post.

That this war means the end of kings is a possibility, but that it is the end of a good many plain people is a certainty.—Cleveland Leader.

We would like to recall our prophecy that the war will last two whole years. The Irish in France have taken to fighting with their fists.—New York Evening Sun.

It is doubtful whether the G. O. P. will ever be restored to the halcyon condition of the days of "Teddy" and "Bill".—Chicago News.

Germany seems to have lost all of her foreign possessions with the exception of Milwaukee, St. Louis and Cincinnati.—Houston Post.

Bunch White's church of the social revolution has adopted marriage rites that united the wedded "while love lasts," doubtless in an effort to keep pace with the new penology and the indeterminate sentence.—Detroit Journal.

The day may come when Germany will wish she might get out of Belgium as easily as we have gotten out of Vera Cruz, and with no indemnities to pay for her occupation.—Springfield Republican.

What's that? Ten clubs in the Federal league next year? Well, the more the merrier—or, perchance, the warrier.—Indianapolis News.

Americans in Munich object to the use by Great Britain and France of "Occidental and African savages" in the great war. Americans in Smyrna and Cairo object to the use of the same kind of "savages" by Germany. And there you are!—New York World.

Customer: "Here, waiter. Where are the olives? Hold on. Bring me half a melon and some cracked ice." The waiter cloudily: "Dumplings, half a bombshell, and a bowl of sarapell."—Cleveland Leader.

Readers' View Point

The Advocate assumes no responsibility for the opinions expressed in the column headed "Readers' View-point." Communications from our readers should be short, plainly written and should be signed though the signature will not be printed if it is so requested. These communications should be upon subjects in which there is general interest and they must be free from abuse or extravagant statements that tend to provoke controversy.

Pastor Russell's Sermons.
Editor Advocate: Sir:—Having been a reader of your excellent paper for quite awhile I can't help but admire the good service you have been giving to the public on all questions political as well as religious. Thanking you for printing Pastor Russell's sermons in the past and hoping you will continue to publish them in the future, as we missed them very much the last two or three weeks. I think the sermons have awakened a deep interest in Bible study, to see if such things are true that Pastor Russell is advocating. I have frequently met in little groups of men and the conversation would soon drift to the sermon and men would say it looks like things are changing as we see great prophecies as being fulfilled at the present time. Thanking you very much for past favors, hoping you will favor the public with more of Pastor Russell's sermons. Yours truly,
W. F. SOMMER.

Give Business a Chance.
Editor Advocate: Sir:—The following article in a financial magazine entitled "Give Business a Chance and Little Business Will Prosper" is worth a place in your paper.
"The duty of the hour is to set things right. Let us forget partisan ship, while we set up this great task. If business is a disturbed, if factories are closed, if men are idle, if dinner pails and pay envelopes are empty, let us try to relieve these conditions rather than to blame anybody or any part of them."
"The first thing necessary is to give an assurance that the constant attacks on business will cease. We do not mean that business men shall not be punished for wrong-doing, but we do insist that business men shall be relieved from the persistent threats of punishment for something they might do or for something that was done in the forgotten past.

Give big business a chance and little business will have its share. Take the heavy hand of oppression from the railroads at once. It is high time. The tide has turned strongly against the busters and smashers, and the whole crowd of self-seeking demagogues conspicuous in all the political parties.
President Wilson, keen and alert as he is, can turn the tables quickly if in his forthcoming annual message to Congress he will make a vigorous, earnest, insistent demand for a real new freedom for American industries and railroads, and especially for a new era of retrenchment in the high cost of government. Let him make it clear that in the brief winter session before this Congress goes out, on March 4, no legislation to harass business or interrupt the current of trade will have his support.

"Nothing would do more to encourage capital and labor and start the wheels of industry humming all over the land."
Thank You, Sir.
Editor Advocate: Sir:—Please send me your paper for the next six months to Jackson, O., 99 Chestnut street. After reading the Advocate as long as I have, I don't feel like doing without it. As we have quit work for the winter I'll spend the winter at home in Jackson.
C. A. ARTHUR.

Organized Charity.
Editor Advocate: Sir:—Your editorial suggestion in Saturday's paper for organized charity has the right ring and it occurs to me that if the several organizations that are now doing the work can arrange to join their forces more effectively and better work can be done.
ADVOCATE READER.

A Reason to Travelers.
Editor Advocate: Sir:—There is no loneliness like that of traveling business men and women on holidays, miles and miles away from home and dear ones. In the depths of loneliness I reached your pretty town the evening before Thanksgiving, wondering how I could endure the day without my family.

By some mistake even the usual letters were not awaiting me as I had expected so I felt, and probably looked as though I hadn't a friend in the world as I entered one of your hotels late Wednesday afternoon. It is of this hotel I should like to say just a word, for it differs so entirely from the others all along my route. To begin with by some happy chance the charming wife of the proprietor was in the office and her cordial greeting was the first thing to impress me, and she herself saw that I was shown into a pretty newly furnished room with the daintiest, most inviting bath adjoining. My room was comfort itself, and immaculately clean.

Rarely have I found a hotel room so completely furnished even among the highest priced hotels. My mail and the slightest request were carefully attended to. Under the same roof the most delicious meals are served at surprisingly low rates, and during the week-end on Thanksgiving day the sweetest music was rendered adding much to the homelike charm of the day.
I will always recall this holiday spent hundreds of miles from home and in a hotel as a very restful and delightful memory. It is evident that the ones to whom I am indebted for my pleasant day have traveled and know just how we appreciate homelike comforts, and I predict for them unlimited success in their business and wish that all traveling people might find them as they sojourn for a short time in your enterprising town.

A BUSINESS WOMAN.
Their Recommendation.
Little Bobby Beaton went with his mother to buy a pair of knickerbockers. When he had looked at all the varieties in the store, he was still dissatisfied.
"I want that pair in the window," he protested.
"Those are just exactly like them," assured the clerk; "but if you want that particular pair, I'll get them for you."

And he produced them much to Bobby's satisfaction. They bore a sign which read, "These knickerbockers can not be beat."—Judge.

WORTH MONEY.

Folks often say of Jasper Hanks, "That man is worth a million hanks." Which means he has a mighty hoard in some sly place of safety stored. The value, though, to fellow gents, would not amount to fifty cents. He never helped a human soul since he acquired his bulging roll; he never lets a dime get loose, on any pretext or excuse, unless he knows that it will earn another dime, and then return. He judges all men by their wads; the millionaires rank with the gods, and men who have no pile of kale to Jasper seem both cheap and stale. He kicks at every forward move; he hates to see the town improve, because he fears that better times may tax him for his sacred dimes. He never thinks of aught but cash; all other things to him seem trash; the only backs he reads are those which tell of how a fortune grows; the only pictures which appeal to his old heart of rusty steel, are those which on banknotes are seen—which decorate the good long green. He's worth a million, so they say. Oho, hankiest! A-ha-a-ha! I wouldn't give ten cents a throw for fifty Jaspers in a row!

Every man would like to be a school teacher long enough to whip the boys who live in his neighborhood.

A farmer is naturally suspicious of a town man.

No man would listen to you talk if he didn't know it was his turn next.

Mrs. Dod Gaston, who is very observing, says the reason a woman comes down town in a blue silk dress is that she has nowhere else to wear it.

No one disputes the truth of the common assertion to the effect that "we all have to die." But did it ever occur to you that you have to die?

His mother says Charlie Walpole, the reporter who went abroad a year or two ago, is now one of the editors of the London Times. His sister-in-law says he is working for a moving picture concern at a salary of $75 a month.

An old fashioned man is one who owns a horse and buggy.

There is too much talk about the hero who goes to war and too little about the one who provides a living for a wife and a family of children.

The reason a woman insists that her hair is becoming very gray is that she wants someone to tell her it isn't.

A Little Fun

Asked Too Much.
Fond Mother: "Do you detect any signs of genius, Professor?"
The Professor: "Madam, I am not a detective."—Puck.

Strife.
Dear Sweet Thing: "Aren't you feeling well?"
Steady: "No I ate German noodle soup and French fried potatoes for supper and they won't arbitrate."—Leigh Burr.

Peace at Any Price.
"What is the shape of the earth?" asked the teacher.
"Round."
"How do you know it's round?"
"All right, it's square, then; I don't want to start any argument."—Columbia Jester.

Between Friends.
A country editor wrote: "Brother, don't stop your pen just because you don't agree with the editor. The last cabbage you sent us didn't agree with us either, but we didn't drop you from our subscription list on that account."—Boston Transcript.

Over the Horizon.

NO LONGER "A NERVOUS WRECK"

Nerv-Worth Brought Afflicted Woman's Weight Up From 89 to 113 Pounds.

One of the most remarkable endorsements of Nerv-Worth yet received will be found below. It was written by Mrs. Tom Hurst of Springboro, Ohio, in a letter to the Nerv-Worth Co., whose purpose it was to ascertain how best a number of bottles of the remedy could be obtained for her neighbors as well as for herself. Says Mrs. Hurst:

"I have been taking Nerv-Worth for some time and can say positively it has helped me wonderfully. There have been so many people here who have noticed a change in me and would like to give Nerv-Worth a trial. I have four bottles of it sold. I was a nervous wreck and weighed only 89 pounds. After taking several bottles of Nerv-Worth I weigh 113 pounds, clerk in a meat market every day and keep house for a family of four."

This ought to convince the most skeptical. But if it does not, then remember that Nerv-Worth is sold on an absolute guarantee at the T. J. Evans drug store. Price $1.00 a bottle. Ask Mr. Evans about Nerv-Worth. He knows.

GERMAN SHIPS IN SOUTH ATLANTIC, IT IS BELIEVED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Buenos Aires, Argentina, Nov. 20.—Dispatches received here from Montevideo insist that there is good reason to believe that the German squadron which has been operating in the Pacific Ocean is at present in the South Atlantic. Neither the French nor the British legation here has any information to confirm these reports; nevertheless private dispatches give them credence. It is related among other things that several German steamers are preparing to leave Montevideo to provision the German warships.

Reports that the German Pacific squadron had succeeded in making its way to the Atlantic have been current for two days. Under date of November 28, Montevideo reports that the German squadron had been sighted 600 miles north of Punta Pilar, Brazil, heading northeast.

PHYSICAL TEST FOR ENTERING OUR COLLEGES

New York, Nov. 20.—A physical test is urged by Dr. Wm. H. McCallister, Columbia University medical professor as an entrance requirement of admission to the colleges throughout the country. In his annual report made public today, Dr. McCallister says that "if the colleges throughout the country would place more emphasis upon the health of the candidates for admission, those in control of the child in the home and the school, would be stimulated to take more judicious care of his physical needs and to encourage him to appreciate the relative value of health to the full enjoyment of play and work."

For entrance to college a man must prepare himself intellectually as his work and show by certificate of examination his qualifications. Until recently, little attention has been given to his health qualifications and physical fitness.
